AN OPEN LETTER TO ALL ALUMNAE

Are you aware that you, as an alumna, have the privilege of serving Lasell?

We are seeking enthusiastic alumnae who share a genuine interest in Lasell, and her future, who would be willing to offer their time, talent and effort on her behalf. Your willingness to work with us on committees for Annual Alumnae Council or Reunion, would help accomplish this goal.

If you are concerned with the welfare of Lasell and would enjoy the opportunity of meeting old classmates and other alumnae, please fill in and mail the attached post card at your earliest convenience.

Board of Management
Lasell Alumnae Inc.

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

In 1957, Robert Frost inscribed a volume of his poems entitled A Witness Tree to Donald Winslow "In acknowledgment of what I owe his father for the name of this book." Donald Winslow, currently a member of the Lasell Board of Trustees, is the son of Guy M. Winslow, late President of Lasell and a friend of Robert Frost, who had made many visits to the College. As a matter of fact, Frost was an honorary member of the Lasell Class of 1941. His picture appears in the 1941 year book facing a page on which is printed the text of his poem "Come In." This was the first appearance of the poem in print, and it was one of those to be included later in the volume bearing the title A Witness Tree. A witness tree is one marked by a woodsman's axe to indicate a land boundary; and the particular piece of a witness tree that President Winslow showed to Robert Frost is currently on exhibit, along with the inscribed copy of the book, in the Brennan Library at Lasell.

The point of these remarks is not merely to indicate Lasell's association with one of America's greatest literary figures or to remind readers of an interesting piece of memorabilia on view in the Brennan Library. It is rather to suggest certain parallels and affinities between fundamental interests of Robert Frost and fundamental aspects of Lasell's past, present, and future.

Like many of Frost's other poems, "Come In" deals with contrasts, choices, and paradoxes. The poem tells us that the sound of thrush music beckons the poet into the dark woods; but, as he says, ". . . no, I was out for stars: I would not come in." Those of you who are familiar with Frost's poetry know his interest in choices and paradoxes as they permeate life, his interest in such choices as that represented in "The Road Not Taken," where the narrator must decide between two roads that diverge in a wood, or in the temptation in "Stopping By Woods on a Snowy Evening" to linger in that peaceful spot—a temptation that must be weighed against the force that urges him onwards because of the miles he has to go before he sleeps, because of the obligations that life imposes on him.

There is, too, the curious contrast or conflict in the famous poem "Mending Wall," which on one occasion I heard him read and comment on afterward. With that characteristic twinkle in his eye, he observed that many people who read that poem misread his intention. They picked up from the text the line given to the narrator's neighbor, a farmer—a line that reads "Good fences make good neighbors"—and assumed this represented the theme of the poem. Assuming that this line represented Frost's convictions, they missed altogether the main point of the poem, a point embodied in a line ascribed to the narrator: "Something there is that doesn't love a wall."

Challenge and Revitalization

Like the human situation represented in "Mending Wall," with its conflict between being bound and being free, the history of colleges, Lasell among them, has been marked by contrasts and conflicts. Perhaps no conflict has been more characteristic of collegiate life than that between aspiration and limitation.

I once heard Frost say, in relation to his fondness for writing rhymed verse, that the very challenge of the rhyme was something he enjoyed. Writing without the limitations or constraints of rhyme, he felt, was like playing tennis without a net. At Lasell, too, we have our challenges; we do not intend to play tennis without a net; we do intend to enter into our particular form of competition with undiminished energy. Our goal is to excel in our educational enterprise.

In this connection, I am put in mind of the first major talk I delivered to a Lasell audience—my inaugural talk, I believe—the theme of which was the conflict of the head and the heart. At that time I pointed out that before us lay some very difficult choices to make—choices intensified by the severe financial crisis that had been creeping up on colleges for some time but that had just then burst out with a violent impact. My point, briefly, was that a certain degree of hardheadedness would be required of Lasell, that we would have to part with some of the traditions, practices, and even people connected with the cherished past in order that the institution might be preserved. In many instances the objectivity of the head would necessarily have to prevail over the promptings of the heart. At the same time I expressed the hope that humaneness could characterize the management of the college's affairs even as decisions affecting its ultimate welfare were being made.

It took no great prophetic power to see that this was going to be necessary, as indeed it has been. Moreover, in reflecting on the recent past, it is evident that the casting off of the old that invariably accompanies the revitalization of a college had begun on at least one level before I became president. It should be remembered that the dramatic re-shaping of Lasell's physical plant began several years ago with the construction of the Valentine Dining Room and the Woodland Hall Annex, and more recently with the building of New Dorm in the Rockwell Woods and the magnificent Library on the central campus. Finally, just this year another new residential building, McClelland Hall, has been opened in the Rockwell Woods.

The completion of this most recent addition to our campus marks what is undoubtedly the most striking change in the outward appearance of Lasell. At the very moment I am writing these words, our own particular Witness Tree—Bragdon Hall—is being removed from its site. But rather than look upon the razing of Bragdon Hall as the loss of something deeply cherished, I hope we can see it as a symbol of what helped originally to make Lasell great and what in its demise signals the rebirth of the College. To watch the demolition is painful. But at the same time it conjures up the image of the phoenix and the generating of a new and more vigorous institution from the ashes of old Bragdon.

Historically, Lasell as it was embodied in Bragdon Hall was a distinguished educational pioneer and has always been in the forefront of higher education among two year colleges. Clearly it is the purpose of the present Board of Trustees, of the alumnae and the faculty, of the student body and the administration to do everything possible to sustain Lasell in its excellence and to make of it in fact the leading two-year college in the nation. To extract a phrase from one of Shakespeare's sonnets and to alter it to our purposes, we may say that we are the "Stewards of our College's Excellence."

Expedite and Strengthen

To carry out our stewardship with the fullest measure of responsibility requires much more, of course, than erecting buildings, though we should not underestimate the importance of much-needed buildings. Still, we must develop the College not only in terms of its physical plant but also its faculty strength and the support and opportunities given to our students.

To accomplish our goal requires, naturally, managerial planning on a comprehensive scale. When I arrived at Lasell in 1970, I requested the Board of Trustees to approve the establishing of a new administrative structure that would expedite and strengthen institutional management. The Board readily granted permission, and we now have what I believe is a strong administrative structure, with three capable deans charged respectively with academic affairs, student affairs, and administrative affairs. This structure, with able people in the key positions, enables us to guide the College on an operational level intelligently and productively.

The Faculty, under the direction of the Dean of Academic Affairs, maintains an on-going and vigilant review of the curriculum and of academic standards, measuring both against the abilities, needs, and expectations of our students, as well as against the realities of the outside world and professional standards of excellence. At times when young people are often moved to act on impulse or by the promptings of impatience, Lasell has generally been able to proceed towards solutions to problems by way of reasoned discourse. By the establishment of commissions representing the several constituencies of the College family—students, faculty, trustees, parents, alumnae, and administration—we have been able to discuss issues central to college living, such as the in loco parentis concept, and to arrive at reasonable conclusions about appropriate policies for the College to adopt.

Economies and Education

Administratively, the College was put under the heavy burden of trimming operating costs so that we might continue as a viable operation without damaging the quality of educational programs. Some of the required changes in management were dramatic and, indeed, traumatic. For example, within the past two years we have gone to outside contract services in regard to both housekeeping and food service. This has meant parting company with many Lasell employees, some of whom had been with the College for years and years. Every effort was made to effect the changes as humanely as possible; but some of the changes were undeniably in the category of those head-heart conflicts that are bound, in the process of being resolved, to produce pain at the same time that they are curing economic ills. Two years ago administrative salaries were frozen for a twelve-month period; last year faculty salaries above a certain level were frozen. The economic stringencies that affected the whole nation did not spare Lasell, and rigorous measures were required of us to keep the College operationally stable. But we have been able to achieve stability; and what is more, in the interest of sustaining quality, we have taken such steps as reducing our debt service and providing for a consolidation of our physical plant so that at the same time we are effecting operational stability, we are channeling as many funds as possible into educational programs and instructional costs.

While all this was going on, we were faced last year with the required tenth-year reevaluation of the College by our accrediting agency, the New England Association of Schools and Colleges. This was for many of us—indeed for all of us one way or another—a time and energy-consuming enterprise. But we emerged from it stronger than ever and with a very laudatory report from the evaluating commission. We feel, consequently, that we have demonstrated our ability to adjust our operations to the necessities and rigors of the times that are characterized by financial stringency, including a diminishing of Federal support to higher education and a doubtful situation with respect to state support.

At the same time we are deeply aware that it takes continuing watchfulness and the most careful kind of planning to preserve our stability on the one hand and to encourage growth on the other. I am not calling for growth in size because I do not believe that is our objective.

Smallness is undeniably one of our primary assets. So when I speak of growth, I mean growth in quality.

As you might expect, the kind of growth to which I refer, the improvements in the life and condition of the College, do not occur in a hit or miss fashion. Rather they evolve from plans drawn up by the Long Range Planning Committee and endorsed by the Board of Trustees. In the spring of 1972, for example, the Long Range Planning Committee submitted a five-year plan to guide Lasell on a path of continuing excellence. The Board approved this plan in principle and since has approved certain modifications of it.

Qualitative growth, moreover, has been given significant impetus recently by the generosity of devoted alumnae, who through bequests and other forms of gifts have made possible not only the improvement of the physical plant but also the augmentation of scholarship funds and the establishment of a Faculty Development Fund named in honor of Dr. Richard M. Packard, recently retired chairman of the Department of History. Though these may be modest beginnings, they are significant ones; and they testify to the confidence of the Board and of the Alumnae in the future of the College.

Small College Environment

Not long ago I had an opportunity to speak to a charitable organization on the subject of life in a women's junior college; and I made a considerable point at the outset of my remarks to distinguish between the private two-year college and the public community college. I made this effort in part because a large segment of the general public fails to make this distinction. I think it is an important one; and making it helps in a way to emphasize the special virtues of a college like Lasell.

The public community colleges, which are expanding at rates that shock even some of their original proponents, not to mention the taxpayers, are essentially commuter colleges with low tuition and with, for the most part, open enrollment policies. They emphasize bigness—that is, in physical plant size and enrollment. Unquestionably they serve a purpose, which I need not go into here. But some people feel that the expansion of low-tuition public institutions threatens the very survival of relatively expensive private colleges like Lasell. Others might even argue that private one-sex colleges are these days somewhat anachronistic anyway since an apparent stampede towards coeducation has been joined by so many traditionally one-sex institutions. It should be pointed out, though, that the stampede is diminishing, and we are noticing now a reversal of that tendency, born in many instances out of economic panic. Lately a number of articulate and perceptive people have recognized that coeducation is no magic encourager of learning; it does not necessarily solve financial problems; and it obscures the fact that a women's college is one of the few places where a young woman is really a first-class citizen.

Most important, however, I do not see the private women's junior college—and certainly Lasell—as anachronistic as long as it is serving the purpose that Lasell serves—namely, to satisfy the very real needs of students who may want or require two years of higher education either in the form of a self-contained degree program or a degree program that includes the option of transferring into a baccalaureate program in a four-year college or a university. Furthermore, given the tendency towards restlessness that characterizes modern student life and the frequency of dropping out after two years of college, the junior college program has another distinct advantage. After two years the student has completed a program and has achieved a degree.

What we must always keep in mind is that Lasell is especially well-suited to the student who needs a setting that nourishes her confidence. Given the terrible complexity of today's world and the awesome prospect of assuming mature responsibility in such a world, it is little wonder that a young person of seventeen, or eighteen, or nineteen should be in a somewhat fragile state of mind as she contemplates the future. Surely, then, there are many young women who need the small college atmosphere and the concomitants of individualized attention in the classroom that Lasell's 12-1 student-faculty ratio supplies. Surely there are many young women who will benefit by sympathetic counseling and well-conceived opportunities to grow into a confident taking-on of responsibility. This kind of young woman is going to be well served by Lasell in a way that no public community college with its emphasis on mass production is ever going to be able to serve her.

Moreover, the junior college, if it properly conceives its role, is not going to be exerting the same intensity of competitiveness initially that the student is likely to encounter in a four-year college or university. This is not to say that the capacity for intellectual development is not present in the Lasell student. As a matter of fact, all one needs to do is to look at the record of what our graduates have accomplished. Those who have chosen to go on to further education have entered the most respected professions and have distinguished themselves in these professions. They have become doctors and lawyers, teachers and administrators. Those who have chosen not to go on for further formal education have succeeded equally in business and in the health professions, in banking and the arts. Perhaps what is most striking about Lasell graduates in the aggregate is the extensive degree to which they have taken leadership roles in their communities, serving on boards of educational and charitable institutions, promoting community cultural life, and shaping social and political policy. So Lasell expects a good deal of intellectual promise in its students. But Lasell also recognizes a significant fact of life—namely, that not all young people are ready for intense intellectual competition at precisely the same time. Some may need a little more time to develop their capacities or to recognize their true interests than others; and they need a suitably congenial environment in which to develop them.

Constructive Channeling

Colleges get young people at a time in their lives when they are in a state of precarious balance. They have a certain degree of sophistication; at the same time, being short in years, they are in other respects unsophisticated. They both crave and reject guidance; they both distrust authority and seek it. Within them a good deal of prudent stability coexists with a good deal of insecurity as they regard both the rigors of academic pursuits and the complexities of modern life. All of this suggests that college life is likely to be a continuing exercise in paradox, contradiction, and precarious balance. Lasell faces this likelihood squarely; and we try consequently to be sensitive to the needs of the students and patient in dealing with them. We do not take blunt authoritarian positions. Ours is not the position advocated to me by an acquaintance who says, "Just tell them what to do. Don't ask them. Never ask them." This attitude will not cut down resistance to authority, nor will it build confidence or promote growth. Rather, it is incumbent upon us to develop educational growth and to create or help to create opportunities for the students to take on responsibility academically and socially. Our mission is to reinforce the student's constructive impulses and to do so by providing an atmosphere that is conducive to learning. This requires, of course, careful attention to programs and teaching quality and to the providing of opportunities for students to assume responsibilities in which they have a reasonably good chance to succeed. For example, we have students on several faculty committees, and they often make significant contributions to the business at hand. A good example of constructive channeling of student energies and wisdom into a project that helps to develop confidence and to serve the College as well is an idea conceived by our Dean of Students for allocating funds for student activities. These funds come in through student activities fees and must be used to support such activities as the newspaper, the year book, the drama society, and various clubs. The aggregate amount of money is something in the neighborhood of $25,000; and the requests from various organizations served by this fund generally come to twice that amount. So at our Dean's suggestion, we organized a Fee Commission, chaired by the Dean and made up of a preponderantly student membership. The job of the commission is to sift through the applications for funds to determine how $25,000 can be spread out among requests for $50,000. This is no small responsibility for anyone; and we are pleased that our students have been doing a very good, systematic, and thoughtful job in making the allocations. Where they cut budget requests sharply, they accompany their cuts with recommendations as to how the difference between the request and the allocation might be made up. Where they judge the request to have insufficient justification they do not hesitate to say so and to reject it altogether; and in some instances they have increased allocations when, in their judgment, the organization's request has been too modest to accomplish its purpose.

This is, of course, just one brief instance of our being able to establish a condition in which the students can take on responsibility and proceed towards self-assurance that is founded on knowledge and experience. When that kind of assurance is achieved or the student is well on her way towards achieving it, we feel that however short the two years are that make up the junior college educational span, the Lasell enterprise has justified itself.

Over and over I hear from graduates and from their parents a recurring message—Lasell did wonders for me (or for my daughter). Invariably these messages touch one way or another on the acquisition of self-confidence—on the unique impact of the Lasell experience that produces dramatic changes in its students in two short years. I suspect that this special impact, so difficult to define in precise terms, also lies at the heart of the remarkable attachment so many alumnae feel to the College.

Before coming to Lasell, I had been in higher education for a number of years, dealing primarily with four-year college and university matters. But in the course of my work I often encountered transfer students, some from Lasell, some from other colleges; and often my work required that I evaluate their performances and form conclusions about the relative quality of preparation shown by these transfer students. Over a period of several years of such involvement, I became increasingly aware that Lasell was a uniquely distinguished institution as measured by its graduates, and it was in large part that awareness that interested me in coming to Lasell as president. Since coming to Lasell and becoming more deeply involved in the affairs not only of this college but of other two-year colleges, and of organizations that embrace the whole range of post-secondary education, from vocational schools through the most prestigious universities, I am more than ever convinced that the Lasell quality of education—as reflected in its students, faculty, academic programs, trustee commitment, alumnae loyalty—is superior. I am equally convinced that it can be made even better, and that there are certain areas clearly marked out for us to improve and strengthen.

Program for '76

This recognition, shared by an enlightened Board of Trustees, has materialized into the Program for '76 which is a four year plan designed to make Lasell the finest two-year college, for women in the nation. Our 125th Anniversary appropriately marks the year in which we hope to complete its first phase. You will soon be hearing the details of the coming capital fund campaign formulated to implement the program and which is under the professional direction of the Cumerford Corporation, with James Stanley, Marjorie MacClymon '32, and Joy Stewart Rice '55 serving as associate directors. With the College thus providing full staff support, the campaign will be proceeding under distinguished volunteer leadership.

Mr. Alfred C. Edwards, Vice President of the Board of Trustees, and formerly Chairman of the Board of Holt, Rinehart, and Winston, as well as Vice President and Director of CBS, is serving as Campaign Chairman. Mr. Edwards will be assisted by a number of committee chairmen, drawn from the ranks of trustees, alumnae, parents, and friends. The complete structure of the campaign team will be announced shortly, but I felt that you should all know now that we are well under way in our planning.

The first phase priorities will include a Student Center, with ground-breaking scheduled within the next few months. We recognize that alumnae have considered this a pre-eminent need for many years. Our students feel the urgency as well and are serving on a committee under our Dean of Students to assure that the building fully meets student needs. Though the student center is the first priority, other goals falling within the scope of phase 1 of the campaign include the provision of a fine arts facility and the replacement of certain obsolete housing by new residential facilities.

Equally important, we feel, is the need for adding to the financial aid program, as college costs continue to rise; and we plan therefore to make a concerted effort to attract endowment funds that will produce income to be used for scholarships. The Faculty, which is so much the heart of any institution, quite frankly needs very significant recognition in terms of higher salaries. Partly because of an American tradition of which many of us do not enthusiastically approve, the greater financial rewards in the academic world have gone to publishing scholars rather than to excellent teachers. Lasell is a teaching institution. This is our greatest strength—not only that we are a teaching institution but that we are a fine teaching institution. We have not been wealthy in the sense of having liberal operating income to feed into faculty salaries, and yet we have a faculty that should be recognized for its teaching merits and for its dedication on the personal level to the quality of student life. Our campaign, consequently, must include a very substantial endowment goal to improve salaries.

As I think of the contrast in higher education between the rewards given to teaching faculty and to publishing faculty, I am mindful of a passage in Gullivers Travels where Swift puts into the mouth of a rational idealist the observation that the man who can make “two blades of grass grow upon a spot of ground where only one grew before” deserves “better of mankind . . . than the whole race of politicians put together.” Without trying in any way to get into a controversy regarding grass-growers and politicians, I would suggest that there is something of an analogy between Swift’s example and the disparity of rewards offered the teaching teacher and the publishing teacher. One might say that the teacher who can teach his student to write a sound English sentence deserves more from mankind than the whole race of literary critics put together. As a former English professor and an admirer of some literary critics, I would not want to press the analogy too far, but if it sounds like an over-dramatic statement, it is so by design to emphasize the importance of upgrading the salary structure for our faculty. This is one area in which we indisputably need strengthening.

We also need funds for additional educational resources. I refer not to the gimmickry that was washed up on the educational shores in the tidal wave of the new technology. What we need are audio-visual resources of proven instructional worth, additional acquisitions and equipment for our library, and human resources involving visiting specialists, stimulating conferences and new programs, all of which are needed to enrich the educational life at Lasell.

And so our Program for ’76—our major capital campaign—is designed to strengthen our institution so that it will be able to take an unchallenged place in the vanguard of higher education at the two-year level in the year that marks its 125th Anniversary. As the campaign proceeds, you will be hearing from us. Our plans have been carefully made and are geared to a schedule that is conceived to give us the best chance of achieving our goals. Though it would not be practicable for us to attempt to reach all constituencies at the same time, no one will be deprived of an opportunity to assist the College. The campaign will not be over in six months or even a year. In due course all of you will be hearing from us! You may be sure, too, that any time you wish to contact my office, I will be happy to talk with you about the details of the campaign program and its importance to the College. Before very long, explanatory and descriptive literature will be reaching you, and I will be reporting to you at frequent intervals on the progress of the campaign. Meanwhile, I hope it is clear that Lasell is vitally active and has vigorously committed itself to move towards a great future which the College alumnae have shared prominently in shaping.

THE LASELL FUND

Unrestricted gifts to The Lasell Fund for the period July 1, 1971 to June 30, 1972 totalled $48,064; of this amount $31,318 was realized from alumnae contributions.

Alice Mott Stewart '01-'02 writes: "Was so glad to receive the recent bulletin and to see a picture of Prof. Winslow, whom I recall with pleasure. He taught 'my' Chemistry class; am delighted he is so favorably remembered and honored. Another of my favorite teachers was Miss Austin; she and Prof. Winslow were married not long after I left. She was a sweet person—the marriage was no surprise! Incidentally, I am still corresponding with a friend I made during the year I attended the Seminary—have seen her but once since. She is Mary Goodwin Olmsted of Connecticut."

Clara Huttenbaur Levy '07 and Grandson Robert

From Clara Nims: "In November Julia Potter Schmidt '06 spent a week with me. She visited relatives and friends in California before going to Florida where she will spend the winter with her daughter."

We share Constance Blackstock's Yuletide letter with her many Lasell friends: "A Merry Christmas! May it be a very joyous one as families gather together to celebrate this happiest of holidays.

"In the midst of so much conflict, our hearts are full of thanks for the abundance of good will that is extended to those in need.

"God grant that 1973 may see the end of the senseless bombing in Indochina. . . . May the New Year also see the end of terrorism in the Middle East. Our prayers go out for the problems confronting the Christian Church and Community all over the world. Some of us naturally think of those places where we have worked. We pray for special wisdom at this time for the leaders of Christian education in Pakistan. . . .

"However, in the midst of all these conflicts we find many rays of hope. My prayer for you this Christmas and New Year is the Old Gaelic one:

May the roads rise with you
And the wind be always at your back,
And may the Lord hold you in the hollow of His hand."

From Secretary Marion Hale Bottomley: "The Holidays brought messages from six classmates. Remembering that it has been 62 years since our Lasell graduation, I think the response is fine! A very lovely calendar came from Nell Carneal Drew, who gave her winter address: 3024 N. E. Center Avenue, Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Tot McLean Hunt wrote mainly about the grandchildren—Hara is teaching English to French children in Quebec City. The other three grandchildren are either in business or in college. Mildred Snyder Grant is living in a retirement home at 825 Jefferson Street, New Orleans, La. 70115. She is not too far from her daughter's home. Daughter Betty Grant Smith (Lasell '41) lives in Beaumont, Texas; Walter, Jr. is in Pascagoula; her married son, an intern at Parkland Hospital in Dallas, has been entertained by Tot McLean Hunt. Julia Hamilton Peters' beautiful card was a copy of her son's painting—a group of elk in the western mountains. Last summer Julia and her brother enjoyed an Alaskan vacation—via ship through the Inland Passage. Julia now lives, year round, at Country Club Towers Apartment in Great Falls, Montana. Irma Levi Levy continues to enjoy bridge, parties and the 80° weather in Sarasota, Florida. Her oldest grandson is now associated with a large law firm. Margherita Dike Hallberg, now a great-grandmother, keeps active and enjoys life in Laguna Hills, California.

Harriet Fera French reports sister Lavinia's (Fera McKinney '16) 50th wedding anniversary "a gala occasion. Lavinia received letters from her Lasell roommate, Lena Hauck Johnson, and her torch-bearer, Josephine Burt Wright '17."

'21

Sarah Pauline Wild Gordon and husband divide their time between homes in Pasadena and Alamos, Mexico. Earlier this year they enjoyed a delightful cruise via private yacht from New York, through the Panama Canal, up the Pacific to Acapulco.

'22

Mr. George Harris, husband of Margot Lovering, died suddenly on January 11, 1973. The Class extends sincere sympathy to Margot, to her son and to daughter Ann Harris Hughes '55.

'23

The Sunshine Society of Walden, New York acknowledged Dorothy Millspaugh as their Sunshine Lady—Woman of the Year for 1972. Dorothy was born in Walden and grew up in the Sunshine Society founded by her grandmother and continued by her mother. Most of her life she has been involved in Girl Scouting and also has been an active member of the Walden Woman's Club. She is on its executive board and has served several years as chairman of the Cabin maintenance committee.

Margaret Anderson Gage writes:

"Have just finished reading and enjoying the Lasell Bulletin, and having spent two very happy years at Lasell, I would like to make a contribution to the G. M. Winslow Bookshelf in memory of Mariesta Howland Bloom, our Class Secretary who kept track of us all. It is always with regret that I find nothing in the 1926 Class Column. Last summer my former roommate, Frances Vail Pollack, visited us, and at Christmas I had a lovely letter from Minerva Damon Ludewig, who reported a grand time at 1927's Reunion. And there were notes from Madeline Roth White, Dot Hale Brown and Marion Brown Schlosser.

"Last fall my husband and I—he is a Stanford graduate and Harvard Business School '26—were looking forward to a New England tour. We had planned to stop over at the end of the tour in Boston and once again visit Lasell and Harvard. Unfortunately, my husband suffered a stroke in May; we hope to make the tour in September '73. If so, Lasell is a must."

Pauline LeClaire Reiter has been installed as president of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of the State of Maryland. She is a charter member of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Baltimore City Medical Society and served as its president in 1969 and 1970. Polly and Dr. Reiter, whose specialty is internal medicine, have two children. Their son, Robert Jr., lives in Baltimore and has three children. Daughter, Ann Sargent Reiter, received her BS degree in nursing at the University of Maryland and is now working for the Veterans Administration Hospital in Washington, D.C. The Reiters have traveled extensively throughout this country, the British Isles, Europe and the Middle East. Polly's ties with medicine are evidenced not only through her marriage and medical auxiliary work, but also through her hobby, studying the history of medicine.

Excerpts from Karin Eliasson Monroe's Christmas letter: "The Monroes have become devoted Islanders here in this beautiful small community (Coronado, Calif.) surrounded by good friends including many of Hank's U.S.N.A. classmates who will be celebrating their 40th reunion this coming year. Our Kay, at seventeen, is an enthusiastic High School Senior—very active in all sports and student government. In anticipation of college next year, we visited many California colleges during her spring vacation. In late summer we had a glorious month's visit out here with our Sally, John, Christopher (who will be three on Christmas Day), and their precious new little Jennifer. The Longs (Ann and Dave with Karin, 7, and Kristin, 4,) continue to enjoy Germany but really look forward to stateside leave next summer.

"On September 25, we celebrated our 30 wonderful years together at a dinner party with friends, after which, as a complete surprise to the bride, the groom drove her to the DelCoronado Hotel where he had reserved the Bridal Suite replete with champagne and flowers—a perfect celebration except the bride had to leave her groom at 8 a.m. to go home to 'bake a cake' for the church. However, she returned to the suite and we toasted another 30 years."

The new—and "retirement"—address for Helen Champagne Trook is Box 165, Hancock, N.H. 03449. Helen's son, David, is Expedition Coordinator for Educational Expeditions International (EEI), a non-profit organization which develops and manages field expeditions led by distinguished scientists to research sites around the world. EEI was established for the purpose of involving small, carefully-selected groups of enthusiastic and responsible non-specialists in actual physical participation in field research. These expeditions are not tours but are bona fide research projects made accessible, under the auspices of Educational Expeditions International and the Smithsonian Institution, to those special persons who are stimulated by adventure.

Barbara Heath Ramsay plans to return to "winter in Florida" after spending the holidays in Cleveland. She enjoys frequent visits with Molly Upham Menges, a winter resident of Placida.

Ever one of the "busiest," Harriet Colwell Reeves reports: "All the Reeves Clan will be together during Christmas Week. Ann (Reeves Schmid '58), John, Lindsey and Robert will come from Lexington, Kentucky. John has received a promotion; they will move to Falls Church, Virginia after the first of the year. Probably the happiest event of the year was the 'homecoming' of Nancy (Reeves Peterson '66), Gary and Kelly to Akron in June after two years with Uncle Sam at Fort McClellan, Alabama. Dr. Gary established practice with a fine senior doctor in Akron—they have a new home—and for them, this will be a particularly happy Christmas! Alice (Reeves '66) is as busy as a beaver during the year as special events coordinator of O'Neils, the department store group of the May Company Chain. For her there have been many trips, including New York and a spectacular fashion show in October—"Bravo Italiano!" Katy turned 18 in March; graduated from Old Trail High School in June, winning the French Award. Spent June and July studying in France; enrolled as a freshman at Depauw University in September. Pledged Delta Gamma—made the tennis team!

"It was one of the busiest years ever for RLR—United Fund, Jr. Achievement and Stan Hywet Foundation Campaigns in Akron. There was considerable business traveling including three trips to Europe. Harriet? Busy as ever, including City Hospital and the 'Potted Planters' group. Yep—a busy year—and much to be thankful for in 1972! All of us wish for all of you—Good health and Much happiness throughout the New Year."

Audrey Smith Henderson says: "Here's some news—taken from Christmas cards. Am sure it will be of interest for the LEAVES:

From Peg Pearl Ide: Sometimes wonder if I'll ever make it back to a Lasell Reunion. We are rapidly reaching the end of family graduations—so perhaps there is hope. We're looking forward to having Mary, her husband and their new son, Benjamin, home for Christmas vacation. That makes four grandchildren for us—Tim has two boys and a girl. Rob, our youngest, is at UVM, engaged to a wonderful girl—there will be another Ide wedding this summer.

From Phyl Gunn Rodgers: Art and I are waiting anxiously to hear from Burlington, Vermont—Alan and wife Peggy have just made us grandparents for the first time. We are busily engaged in discussing colleges, courses, loans, scholarships and other pertinent information—Pam really wants a degree in Music Education with a liberal arts background.

From Marge Bassett MacMillan: Another good year for us—Betsy (MacMillan Blackledge '62) and David have moved to Clovis, N.M.; Jeanni and Bob are in Boston; John and Cindy in Orange, N.J. Scott graduated from Tufts in June and is working for a Boston engineering firm. Nancy is with us—commuting to Katherine Gibbs in New York. Gordon keeps almost too busy with the Lodge (which he enjoys) and the never-ending home-owner's chores (not so enjoyable). I finally stopped talking about going back to work and did something about it—took a part-time job in September in the Field Service Department of Scholastic Magazines.

From Marjorie Reed Colley: Bunt was in a serious automobile accident in Eastham in July '72—spent 73 days in the Hyannis Hospital. Haven't seen anyone from Lasell this year.

From Ginny Johnston Loud: We've

bought a small retirement home in Chatham, but won't move until this one is sold.

From Natalie Hutchison Clouser: I retired on June 1st ('72) and love it!!!

From Helen Saul Foxwell: Dave graduated from college in June and was married on November 18th. We are very happy to have a daughter-in-law; they live in an apartment about 12 miles from us.

From Adelaide Seeley Bull: Happy to report I am quite recovered from two years of surgery and assorted ailments.

From Deb York: All's quiet on the Florida front—too quiet!!!

From Bili Baxter Perkins: Many memorable events occurred this year—May 26th was most important of all . . . RETIREMENT! We have done so much since then that I sometimes wonder if Ray is "retired" or "re-tired." Early in June we headed west to two very different conventions. First to Houston, Texas for the Rotary International—on to Palm Springs, Calif. to the Classic Thunderbird Club International Concours, limited to owners of 1955-56-57 T-Bird autos. One week after returning to Sarasota, in July, our bags were repacked, the station wagon loaded and we headed for our summer home in Christmas Cove, Maine. We avoided the main highways; had a delightful trip. In mid-October we started South, once again taking the "back roads"—enjoyed the fall foliage and ran into soft, sticky snow in Virginia—just enough to be beautiful. It made us realize we are thankful to be living where we can remember it fondly and not have to cope with it. We are enjoying our first winter in the home we have owned for three years—should any Lasell friends be in the area, do come over and say Hello. Our address: Forest Lakes Country Club Estates, 3541 Sea View Street, Sarasota, Fla. 33580.

Audrey closes with a personal note: "Nothing much new here. We enjoy our little house on the lake—and a bit of leisure time, which permits even doing things like this!!! Best wishes to all for 1973."

Augusta Williamson Lips was "so sorry to miss Reunion. Son Pieter graduated from Kent State and is fortunate to have a job in his special field of Graphic Design."

Of Special Interest: Weddings. Elisabeth M. Allicon, daughter of Glennys Preston Allicon, and Paul Clement on May 13, 1972 at Essex Junction Vermont. Constance M. Arnold, daughter of Edith Fitzgerald Arnold, and Kirk L. Ramsauer on June 11, 1972 at Winchester, Mass. Diana Gray and Richard P. Higgins, son of Louise Tardivel Higgins, on August 12, 1972 in McLean, Virginia.

Cora Pratt Adams issues an invitation to travelers to Mexico: "Please do get in touch—we are rebuilding an old Mexican house in Ajijic. We will be there from October through April. The address: 45A Independencia, Ajijic, Jalisco."

And Harriet Tift Longley would "enjoy meeting Lasell friends or classmates for lunch at the Wellesley Inn." Harriet is retired after spending 15 years as an interior decorator in Wellesley. Son Jonathan is now on trans-Atlantic duty with the Navy; Fletcher, a MBA major at Boston University; Jane attends Babson.

To quote from the Christmas letter of Allison (Starr) and Harold Elrod: "We're still chuckling at Erma Bombeck's hilarious commentary on Christmas newsletters, joshing their so-full-of-all-good-things style! But let's face it, Christmas is a time to keep in touch with good friends, and who wants to listen to complaints? Actually, 1972 has been a good year. Our younger daughter, Carolyn, was married on August 12th to James Taylor of Mamaroneck, N.Y. They now live in White Plains; Carolyn continues to teach 4th grade here in Pleasantville. Older daughter, Joanne, made us grandparents for the second time with the birth on December 5th of Kimberley Elizabeth Layburn. Joanne, Don, Jennifer and Kim live in Ellington, Conn. Terry is now in his junior year at Columbia, taking a double major in psychology and statistics. Last summer he worked at Sleepy Hollow Restorations, which feature early Dutch habitations on the Hudson River. Right after the August wedding, we vanished to Maine. Allison took her brushes and oils and Harold, his newly acquired camera. At York, an inquiry at the library turned up some interesting genealogy involving Indian massacres and the like, and an old ancestral home (circa 1680) still standing just back of York Beach. We wish for each of you, a healthy and happy year."

A brief—and too brief—summary of the year 1972 for Pat Kieser: "Spent three days in Chicago in January at a library seminar, and audited a new class in Reference and Government Documents. Attended a Special Libraries Association convention in Boston in early June; a Zonta conference in Columbus (I am secretary of the Toledo club); on to Cincinnati for Ohio Library Association business. After a week of jury duty—a most interesting experience—Mother and I spent a long October weekend in Toronto—another fine experience was a tour of the new Blair Museum of Lithopanes in Toledo—the largest collection in the world. In late August a friend and I flew to Seattle, picked up a rental car and $50 worth of freeze-dried foods, and drove to Olympic National Park, a backpacker's paradise with over 600 miles of trails. We talked with many fine young people on the trails; loved the beauty and variety of the Park. Early in January '73 I shall accompany an artist friend to an ancient Mayan city on the Usumacinta River, on the border of Chiapas and Guatemala on the Yucatan peninsula. We'll fly to Merida, explore Chichen Itza and Uxmal, take the train to Palenque and its wonderful ruins; hire a helicopter to take us to Yaxchilan, deep in the jungle."

Two "open letters" for the Class of 1941 have been received from California. Class President, Louise Lorion DeVries, writes from 5213 Conant Street in Long Beach: "It's always fun to get the LEAVES—to hear of all the improvements at the College—the many new buildings—the current crop of students. Do wish more '41-ers would send family news. I am now co-ordinating teacher for the Child Study Center at Long Beach City College. Love it!!! Also continue to take a course a semester—just to keep mentally alert. The DeVries family is growing and spreading 'round the world. We have four granddaughters, living close by so we can enjoy them. One son lives in San Francisco; our youngest son, Jim, and his wife are missionary teachers in a public high school in Ghana, Africa. When I am brave enough to have all the necessary 'shots,' we hope to visit them!!! We have lived in Long Beach for 21 years and still think it is a wonderful place despite smog and taxes!!! Let's hear from more of you soon."

And from 4402 Los Feliz Boulevard #201, Los Angeles, comes this word from Barbara Hover Lomma:

Dear Girls,

Must confess, I have not been a very good alumna having neglected you for so many years. However, back and forth to Europe with a period of two and a half years of living in Italy have made me hard to find. Then, too, it is hard to realize that it has been over thirty years since we were all together.

I have a beautiful third husband and have never been happier. Also have seven grandchildren. My oldest daughter is married to a psychiatrist; #2 is the wife of a physicist; and my baby (23) is single and living in London where she is acting and singing. She has worked with Fellini and will be back in Rome after the Christmas holidays. She speaks Italian, Spanish and French; adores London and this summer traveled with us for six weeks on the continent—was a big help with the language barrier.

Me? I am a swinging grandmother, busy and writing a book. Would love to hear from Lasell friends—especially Ruthie McLaughlin Walsh. Are there any classmates living in California? Do hope 1973 brings all the best to all of you.

. . . B. H. L."

Betty McGrath Brown reports: "Our oldest son, Jeff, is engaged to a lovely young gal—they are now juniors at Northwestern; plan an August wedding. Rob is sending applications to colleges—his #1 choice is Cornell. The McGrath clan plans to be together on Christmas Eve in Cincinnati. Mary's (McGrath Linnenberg '40) youngest son is a freshman at Bowling Green."

Lucille Hooker Paterson accounts for her family in Barre, Vermont: "Bill is a senior at Keene State in the Industrial Education Program, and is a member of the Ski Team; Joanne is a Med. Lab. secretary at Mary Fletcher Hospital in Burlington; I'm in my tenth year at the Guidance Office at Spaulding—never a dull moment! In April we had a week's vacation in Bermuda—to celebrate our 25th wedding anniversary."

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Arline Krider Roberts, whose mother passed away on October 9, 1972.

Claire DeConto Trodella of Winchester, Mass. was a member of the committee in charge of the Red and White Ball benefitting the work of the Greater Boston Association for Retarded Children, Inc. The Ball was held in December at the Sheraton Boston.

Jane Cook Cardoza sends "Greetings from Yorba Linda! After eight years of teaching nursery school, I am assisting my husband in our Home Accessory business. Our boys are grown—Gordon is in the food management business and Bruce is attending California State University. Nancy, a 7th grader, is enjoying 4-H."

Our thanks to Gertrude Baninger

Duquette for sending a new address for Florence Pechilis Caramihas—P.O. Box 56, Shoreham, N.Y. 11786. Joan Moller Campbell's current address is 1403 Front Street #205, Lahina, Maui, Hawaii.

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Barbara Pearson, whose father, Mr. Philip K. Pearson, died on January 2, 1973 at the Waltham Hospital. Mr. Pearson was prominent in local and Boston Masonic circles.

Gloria VanHam has been appointed Coordinator of Alumni Activities for the University of Maine at Portland-Gorham.

Marcy Carver
(Emma Gilbert '45)

'46

The Hall family (Marilyn Blodgett) has been reduced to only 3 at home! Susan and hubby Don are now living in Woburn, Mass. Don is assistant manager for a finance company; Sue is a practicing Dental Hygienist. David has taken up bachelor quarters with a buddy in Manchester, N.H. He enjoys apartment living and is equally enthusiastic about his job with the New England Telephone Company.

Nancy, our high school senior, plays powder puff football and lacrosse, along with sharing the responsibilities as co-chairman of the Senior Prom. She is most excited about receiving her early acceptance to Lasell. Sherm and I are happy, healthy and seemingly constantly busy with one project or another. We look forward to cruising the Caribbean waters in March and April with friends (we will be celebrating our mutual 25th anniversaries!) . . . L. B. H.

The most recent "Paints and Paintings" of Dorothy Papani Palmer will be on exhibition at the Bare Cove Gallery, Hingham, Mass., from January 26 to February 26, 1973—Monday thru Saturday from ten to five.

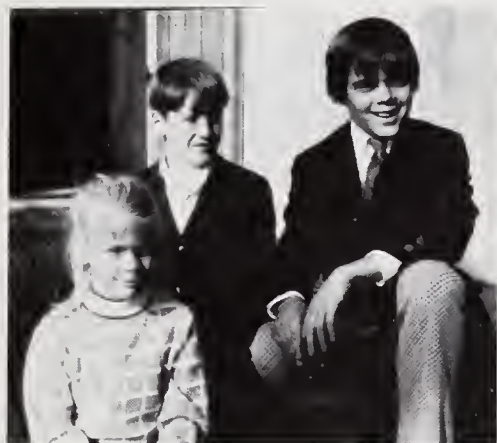

'48

Coward, McCann & Geoghegan, Inc. of New York announce the publication of "Nate The Great" by Marjorie Sharmat. The book was recently reviewed on NBC's TODAY Show—unfortunately, for us, without the author, Marjorie Weinman.

Beulah Kwok Sung is taking courses in Chinese history and in Mandarin dialect at Oakland University, Rochester, Michigan. After more than 20 years, Beulah and her husband are looking forward to a visit with their parents in Shanghai.

Kay Poore Hamel reports a good "telephone" visit with Shirley "Ratsy" Simonton Bancroft; was looking forward to continuing the conversation face-to-face—Ratsy's son is a Princeton freshman. The Hamel children are all enrolled in the Princeton Day School—enjoying it immensely and learning in a healthy atmosphere. Thanksgiving weekend was spent furnishing the new Condominium in Highland Beach, just north of Boca Raton, Florida. "In residence" there through the winter months will be Kay's parents (Pauline Butler Poore '21) of Haverhill, Mass.

The Hamels
(Mother: Kay Poore '49)
(Grandmother: Pauline Butler '21)

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Mayfie Wheeler McKinley, whose only daughter, Pamela, was killed in an accident on May 24, 1972; was buried on her 12th birthday in Lake Forest, Ill. In September Mayfie's husband was transferred to the Buffalo office of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation; with their two sons, they are now living at 55 Knollwood Lane, Williamsville, N.Y.

Robbie O'Brien deBelay writes from "Fairways," Chemin du Plan, Belmont sur Lausanne, Switzerland: "We've been in Lausanne for 11 years and just love it! Last April we moved into our dream house—complete with view of the Alps and the Lake. Rosemary, 16, and Paul, 12, are doing nicely in the Swiss schools and enjoying life in general. I go to the States twice a year—of course, see Ellen O'Brien Montemurro and Marion Ettinger McDonald. Had a glorious visit here with Marion last May."

Jane Abels Eshbaugh has announced her candidacy for a seat on the Barnstable (Mass.) Board of Health. A resident of Barnstable for over nine years, she has a record of interest in civic affairs. Jane has served on the Barnstable Board of Appeals; the School Advisory Committee; the Committee of 100 and the Childrens Protective Service. She was chairman of the Barnstable Recycles and served on the Barnstable Citizens Committee for Regional Solid Waste Disposal.

For The Beckers (Doris Oneal) 1972 proved a bountiful, exciting and fulfilling year. For Dorie it unfolded in January when she was ordained and installed as an Elder in the Presbyterian Church at Pluckemin. She finds her position as treasurer and member of the Board for the Pluckemin Nursery School challenging and absorbing. Once a month she (with four other gals) meets and works with a senior citizen group. During the spring and fall months day trips were planned and during the winter arts and crafts workshops were held. Dorie is still active in the local garden club; works as a volunteer each week at the Bedminster Library and has joined the Chapel Bell Choir at church. March was spent at Alta, Utah, where they purchased a beautiful condominium—as a possible retirement home—but presently rented during the skiing season.

A grey November's day was brightened by a visit from Joan Krummel Parmele and daughter, Margo, who is hoping for a spot on Lasell's roster for September 1973. "Krum" and husband Greg were looking forward to a skiing jaunt to Austria—a visit with Ginny Snedeker Marschall and family.

Another '52 daughter, applying for admission to Lasell, is Shelly Smith of Scottsdale, Arizona. Shelly's mother, Joanne Stillwell, writes of the family's activities: "Son Brad presently plans a profession in the medical field and has a running start at it as a member of the National Honor Society and the Future Medical Students of Saguaro High School. Kathy, a student at Arizona State University, is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, a National Honor Sorority, and has just become engaged to Patrick Valentine Kern. Shelly is a member of Zeta Gamma Phi, a high school Christian service sorority; has learned the game of football this year—when you're in Sun Devil Country it's either that or sit and talk to the walls. Jacque is an incredible athlete, excelling in most sports, but has still to learn that you don't beat the boys at their own game. Paul and I are about the same; he's still traveling over land and now sea, and I'm doing a few flicks and commercials (what else does one do with perpetual dishpan hands). Very best good wishes to all Lasell friends—how I wish I might have been in Auburndale for our 20th!"

Joan Fischer Bell thoughtfully sends a new address: 180 Riverside Drive, Basking Ridge, N.J. 07920. Son Thomas, a freshman at Furman University (Greenville, S.C.), was runner-up in the 1972 New Jersey high school golf tournament; daughter, Linda, is an 8th grader.

Sarah Grahame Cairns, a former West Brookfield (Mass.) school committee member, is seeking the three-year term as selectman of that town. For the past ten years, Sally has been involved in the construction business; has spent the last three years managing a Brookfield apartment complex.

From Sylvia Pfeiffer Nesslinger: "Our lives have become busier than ever. My husband is now the Director of Highways for the State of Ohio; has written five chapters for a book on Right-of-Way Acquisitions which will be used as a course text by schools and businesses. A year ago we became guardians for two nieces—now we have four girls and a son—ages 10, 14, 14½ (son Karl), 15½ and 16. About two months ago we 'adopted' an aging stray beagle—we are so glad—she is very sweet. One niece, a fine horsewoman, came with a pinto named Pete—and in addition, a gerbil!!! Our oldest daughter, Marcy graduates from high school in June—having completed that phase of her education in three years. She has been accepted at Virginia Intermont College, Bristol, Va. Karl, an enthusiastic athlete, became an Eagle Scout last July. The other children are involved in activities too numerous to mention. They do, however, keep us busy. Ness and I had a delightful late November holiday in Phoenix. Very best good wishes to all."

'54

Mary Diggs Stafford enjoyed a mid-January visit in California with mother, Mrs. Julia Nelson Diggs (Faculty '15-'17), and adds: "The Bing Crosby golf tournament was in full swing while I was there—so lots of excitement. Our oldest son is working for the local newspaper and attending classes at the University of Nevada. Tommi Ann, a high school senior, is engaged to be married but wedding plans are two years away when David graduates from college in Phoenix. She will go to the University in the fall. Paul is an 8th grader; Jackie in pre-school. I am working in a museum, recently opened here in Henderson (Nev.)—it's an exciting job and loads of fun."

'56

Janet Parmenter Ellinwood is now an associate member of the Wilton (Conn.) Board of Realtors. Janet has joined the firm of Richard Tjader, Inc.; is a member of the Wilton Women's Club and the Women's Republican Club.

Betty Larrabee Martin has been appointed Activity Director of the Med-Vale Nursing Home in Medfield, Mass. Among her early accomplishments have been a broadening of the arts and crafts program, games, a luncheon at an early church and participation in programs of the Senior Citizens at the Youth Center.

For Marge McKinney Bogdan the month of February was the most exciting of 1972—"on the 29th six Siberian Husky pups arrived!!! It proved lots of fun, lots of work and lots of chewed-up socks. Great for the kids—Michelle, 9, and Christopher, 3."

'58

The Pan-Laonian Federation of U.S. and Canada has elected a woman as supreme president for the first time. Becoming the first member of her sex to lead a national Greek-American organization is Portia Pantages, president of the Boston Daughters of Laconia for three terms and supreme secretary for the past year of the Foundation. Portia was recently elected to the board of trustees of the St. Demetrios Church, Weston, Mass., and serves as recording secretary. A financial administrator at Honeywell, Newton, she earned her B.A. degree from Suffolk University and has taken graduate studies at Northeastern.

Gail Seibert Glover and family have left the sunny state of Florida for a two/three year assignment in Japan. Husband Scott is affiliated with Esso; they are looking forward to Tokyo living.

Susan Clary Delahunt has recently completed a real estate licensing program in Hanover, Mass. She has received training in legal, technical and practical aspects of real estate brokerage necessary for the Massachusetts licensing examination for brokers and salesmen.

Judy Watson Lewis is secretary to the Co-ordinator of School and University Programs at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn.

Sandy Wilson Joyce was named October's Enterprising Woman by the town of Hudson, Mass. A past-president of the Hudson Garden Club, Sandy is chairman of the 1973 Flower Show, chairman of the new Junior Gardening program, a member of the board of directors of the Central District of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts; this year is president-elect of the Cox Street Home and School Association of Hudson.

Joyce Wheeler Gardner, a member of the faculties of Garrison Forest School and Loyola College, has opened her own dance studio in Catonsville, Maryland—"The JWG Studio of Dance—Ballet for ages six to adult."

Baila Issokson Janock is "busy bringing up five active children plus one collie dog."

The Class extends sincere sympathy to Gail Bingle Staunton, whose father passed away on October 7, 1972.

Tammy Rae Pettinicchi
(Valerie Duval '61)

'62

Sandy Foundas Connors is principal clerk in the Brighton (Mass.) Municipal Court; husband Bill is a cost analyst for Honeywell in Billerica. They are now living at 191 Lake Street, Brighton, Mass. 02135.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alan Baer and Family (Linda Resnick '62)

Susie Cagle Rojecki forwards a new address—18 Union Street, Brandon, Vermont 05733. Her husband, Bob, has opened his own wholesale business in Rutland; Susie is the busy bookkeeper. They have two children, Todd Michael, 7, and Tracy Jennifer, born January 17, 1971.

Tracey Jennifer Rojecki
(Susie Cagle '62)

Marcia Madden attended the October Annual Meeting of the American Occupational Therapy Association in Los Angeles. She served as Boston University-Sargent College of Allied Health Profession's clinical representative to the Occupational Therapy Association's Committee on Basic Professional Education.

Michele Nickelsen
(Lynda Blount '62)

From Linda Resnick: "On October 14, 1972 I was married to Robert Alan Baer, a photographer with a studio in Woburn, Mass. Our family consists of Amy Freedman, 4, Jonathan Freedman, 6, and Cynthia Baer, 3; we're living at 103 Spit Brook Road, Nashua, N.H. 03060. Received a B.A. degree in elementary education in May from Notre Dame College (Manchester, N.H.) and am teaching kindergarten at the White Wing School in Nashua. Two of my pupils are children of Lasell graduates—Dotty Andler Silber '63 and Joan Hosmer Griffith '63."

Patricia Perry Polidor is a part-time instructor at the John Robert Powers School in Rochester, N.Y. Her husband, a design engineer, is with Automation Gages, Inc. Their daughter, Tracey Elizabeth, will celebrate #3 birthday on March 30, 1973.

'65

After six years of New York City's apartment living, Helene Viener is "loving the Southern hospitality—fresh air—trees—green grass—clear skies of Atlanta."

Beverlee Pembroke Hill is a substitute stenographer for the State Court in Montpelier, Vermont.

Carolyn Derby Neal writes to: "Dear Lasell Friends—My husband and I are enjoying the extra space and new neighborhood in our new home at 27 Granby Drive, Madison, Conn. We attended the spring wedding of Helen Cassam Kovacs; keep in touch with Julie Gurka Kubaska, whose third son arrived in December. Joan Carroll Correll has a son and a daughter; is living in New York.

Todd and Jeffrey Neal
(Carolyn Derby '65)

Sister Melissa (Derby Oettinger '68) and Dick are building a new home in Westboro, Mass.

'66

Deborah Fineberg spent the past year in Israel studying Hebrew in an Ulpan and working on Kibbutz Ginosar near Tiberias.

Marsha Howe describes her vacations as "an educational experience." She has traveled through 9 European countries; added a week in Jamaica during last spring's vacation.

Barbara O'Bryon has been promoted to group manager of juniors, children's, boys' and women's shoes at Macy's suburban branch in Colonie, N.Y. Barbara joined Macy's in 1969 as a sales manager for Little Shop, bridal salon, coats and better dresses. In 1970 she became sales manager for men's furnishings and in 1971 was transferred to the junior fashion area.

(Rose) Pamela Rosen is on the staff of Sinai Hospital, Baltimore, Md.

Susan Sullivan Crowley has joined the staff of The Kennebec Valley Regional Health Agency in Waterville, Maine. She will provide therapy in the home according to instructions of the patient's own physician. Sue received her B.S. degree in physical therapy from Columbia University; has served as staff therapist at Mt. Desert Island Hospital, Bar Harbor, Maine.

'68

Loaded with photographic paraphernalia, Marcia Langer flew to Greece in early October to spend six months to a year photographing the archaeological digs near ancient Corinth. She has been engaged by the School of Classical Studies, located in Athens, to do the photography for records they need. This is Marcia's first major assignment since completing a two and one-half year course at the Brooks Institute of Photography, Santa Barbara, Calif.

Betsy Gimbel Ratner sends her new address: 1010 Claflin Avenue, Manhattan, Kan. 66502. She is teaching second grade in one of the local schools; her husband, a teaching assistant, is studying for a master's degree in architecture at Kansas State University.

Jackie Dubin Foster, a '72 graduate of Hillsdale College, is a substitute teacher in the elementary schools of Hillsdale (Mich.) County. Kathy Cooper was Jackie's maid-of-honor at her August wedding, held on the Hillsdale campus.

A June '72 bride is Deborah Robbins, now Mrs. George A. Moser, Jr., 308 Meadows Road, Milford, Conn. 06460.

Christine Carley recently received her bachelor of science degree from Framingham State College.

Joan Holbrook is a staff nurse at New England Deaconess Hospital on a surgical floor.

Ellen Waters was graduated from Southern Connecticut State College in May and was married to James R. Winston on June 4, 1972.

From Laura Siegel: "Although I have been delinquent in keeping in touch with the Alumnae Office, it was not because of a lack of interest. Before I bring you up-to-date on what I have been doing, I just want to reminisce a bit about my stay at Lasell.

"Going to Lasell for my first two years of college life was the best possible way to start my college education. One of the greatest assets at Lasell was the relationship between teacher and pupil. Some of the teachers invited students to come to their homes for casual get-togethers and they took a genuine interest in our human attributes as well.

"My life at Lasell was very full. I met some wonderful people whom I try to keep in touch with and will never forget. I became involved in theatre with Mr. Haney, taught folk guitar once a week at a Unitarian church in Newton, and went to the Lyman Reform School once a week to work with the boys there. My experiences at the Lyman School were very rich and I will never forget them.

"As far as my education at Lasell, I profited very much from my education courses there and learned a great deal from Mrs. Muriel Sheppard.

"After graduating Lasell, I transferred to C.W. Post College on Long Island. Although they finally accepted my full sixty-three credits, I have to go an extra semester in order to satisfy their requirements. I will be student teaching this September and will graduate in January. After I graduate I hope to go back to Boston and get employment there.

"I miss Boston and miss Lasell very much. Thanks for a great two years."

Katherine Burke has been appointed a staff nurse with Visiting Nurse Service of New York. The Service is America's largest voluntary agency in public health nursing and serves Bronx, Manhattan and Queens.

Nancy Waer, who received a B.A. degree from the University of Bridgeport, is now pursuing graduate studies in the field of elementary guidance counseling.

Via Aerogramme: Dear Friends: Having graduated from Lasell in 1970 and now in Australia, we would be very interested in what is happening to Lasell and our friends. Would you kindly send the alumnae magazine so we might catch up on our Alma Mater. We left the East in early August '72 for a trip across the U.S.A. In San Francisco we caught a ship bound for Australia. After a fantastic cruise of five weeks—including Hawaii, Japan, Hong Kong, the Philippines—we landed in Sydney. We are now in the process of getting registered as nurses—'sisters,' as we are called here. Meanwhile we've taken a month's trip around-through-and into Australia—an amazing country and we're very excited about it. If other Lasellites are headed this way, we'd enjoy hearing from them.

On December 26, 1972 Monica Fuchs wrote: "I am a 1970 Lasell graduate and would like you to know that I love every issue of the LEAVES. I actually save it for a very quiet, private moment, recalling my days at Lasell. It was there I did a lot of growing up and a lot of living. Last Thursday I graduated from college and on March 4, 1972 I was married—my new name is Mrs. Monica Caplan. My special regards to Mrs. Archer (I was a Bragdonite—so very sorry to see it go) and to Dr. Donald Manthei."

Marilyn "Lanny" Footer Falsey addresses "Dear Friends at Lasell—it was interesting to read letters from the Class of 1970. WHATTA class and how successful they've been. I, myself, now live in Marlboro; work for a Framingham insurance office. We have a most fantastic child, Melanie, born July 1971—loaded with energy and already quite a leader! My Lasell roommate Joanne Marshall, was married August 28, 1971. She met Greg Doyle at a Lasell mixer. Jo, a B.U. graduate, is working in Framingham, where she lives. Where are the rest of you, '70? You were fun people."

Phyllis Aikens is director of the Sullivan Language School, Wellesley Hills, Mass. The Wellesley branch is the newest of 30 locations of the Sullivan School; classes are arranged for the individual. For further information, call Phyllis at (617) 237-4541.

Barbara Rovegno has been appointed buyer of the juniors and young juniors departments at Skydels's, East Main Street, Bridgeport, Conn.

Ricki Kahn became Mrs. Kevin J. Walsh on November 28, 1971. The Walshes are now living at 10514 National Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90034.

Robin DeAngelis was selected for an exclusive six-week engagement of the "Ice Follies" at Caesar's Palace, Las Vegas, Nev. Before joining the cast of the Follies, Robin was a professional skating instructor for The Southern New Hampshire Skating Club in Manchester and Concord. She is a member of The Skating Club of Boston.
